About The Author...

Takao Saito, male, blood type A, age undeterminable, no information available on childhood and adolescence, nationality unknown (although his mother keeps insisting that he is 'Nipponese'), is Japan's most preminent gekigaka (graphic novelist).

Since his debut nearly 30 years ago, Takao Saito has produced innumerable works of note, covering a wide range of story types.

The longest running and most popular (of his or any gekigaka) is Golgo 13.

Like Golgo, Takao Saito has just reached his prime; graphic novel fans look forward to many more years of both gentlemen.
